AUSTRALIAN SCREEN PRODUCTION INCENTIVE SCHEME

LOCATION OFFSET

Office for the Arts, Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet
// 16.5% for A$15 million QAPE

POST, DIGITAL AND VISUAL EFFECTS OFFSET (PDV)

Office for the Arts, Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet
// 30% for A$500,000 QAPE

PRODUCER OFFSET

Screen Australia
// 40% feature film for A$500,000* QAPE
// 20% other formats (see Producer Offset table for minimum QAPE)

The Location and PDV Offsets do not apply nationality or cultural tests however there are other eligibility requirements. The 40% Producer Offset can apply to co-productions and international joint ventures which satisfy the Significant Australian Content (SAC) test administered by Screen Australia.

Applicants to the scheme must be an Australian company, or a non-resident company with a permanent establishment in Australia and an Australian Business Number (ABN). The applicant company must be responsible for making all the arrangements for the making of the production or post, digital and visual effects production project.

The Location and PDV Offsets are administered by the Office for the Arts, Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet (OFTA), while the Producer Offset is administered by Screen Australia.

The Offsets are calculated as a percentage of Qualifying Australian Production Expenditure (QAPE).

16.5% REBATE ON QUALIFYING AUSTRALIAN PRODUCTION EXPENDITURE.

LOCATION OFFSET

A 16/5% rebate on Qualifying Australian Production Expenditure (QAPE).

ELIGIBILITY

Applicant companies are eligible if they are an Australian resident company or non-Australian resident company with permanent establishment in Australia and an Australian Business Number (ABN).

The production must have a total Qualifying Australian Production Expenditure (QAPE) of at least A$15 million. QAPE includes most production costs such as cast and crew, but excludes most financing costs; foreign development costs; foreign-held copyright acquisition; most general business overheads that are not incurred in relation to making the film; distribution; most publicity and promotion expenditure; deferrals; profit participation; residuals (except where paid out before the film is completed) and advances; and depreciating asset acquisition.

Television series must spend an average of A$1 million per hour of finished production.

The Location Offset cannot be combined with either the PDV Offset or the Producer Offset.

APPLYING FOR A PROVISIONAL CERTIFICATE (OPTIONAL)

A company may apply to OFTA for a provisional certificate before or during production. Although this does not provide a guarantee of final certification, it can assist in identifying those costs which can be counted as QAPE.

APPLYING FOR FINAL CERTIFICATION

Following the completion of the production, the applicant company applies to OFTA for final certification. OFTA will then assess the amount of QAPE incurred by the company.

CLAIMING THE OFFSET

The Offset is claimed by providing the final certificate with the company's tax return to the Australian Taxation Office.

The Offset amount is first applied against any of the production's tax liabilities, with the balance then promptly paid to the applicant company by the Australian Taxation Office.

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

// The PDV Offset must be claimed through an applicant company being either:

- An Australian Resident Company or
- A Foreign Resident Company with an ABN (Australian Business Number) operating through a permanent establishment in Australia.

// Expenditure must be incurred through this entity (i.e. paying all the local vendors and staff etc where applicable)

// The offset can only be claimed once – after completion of all qualifying expenditure

// The offset expenditure needs to be audited prior to submission to the authorities for certification and payment

// The offset is administered through the OFTA (certification) & The Australian Tax Office (payment).

// The refund is paid by cheque to the applicant company via its corporate income tax return

// Historical data demonstrates that Australian incorporated companies have more commonly been used than foreign residents with permanent establishments.

// A newly formed clean company (commonly referred to as SPV) can be created to achieve this or utilize an existing Australian service company

// Be sure to consider the anticipated timing for the expenditure to be audited, certified and the offset paid based on your planned schedule

// If the entity making the claim is also the entity providing the PDV services, this may impact on the amount of QAPE claimable. It is recommended that you seek advice on the best approach for claiming the PDV Offset for your individual project.

AVAILABLE TO FEATURE FILMS AT 40% OF QUALIFYING EXPENDITURE.

PRODUCER OFFSET

The Producer Offset is a tax-based incentive that provides a rebate on Qualifying Australian Production Expenditure (QAPE). It is available to feature films at 40% of qualifying expenditure and at 20% of qualifying expenditure for all other eligible formats as set out in the legislation and guidelines. A co-production certified by Screen Australia is also eligible to apply for the Producer Offset.

ELIGIBILITY

Applicant companies are eligible if they are an Australian resident company or non-Australian resident company with permanent establishment in Australia and an Australian Business Number (ABN).

The two key criteria for accessing the Producer Offset are the ability of the applicant to demonstrate that the production has Significant Australian Content (SAC); and that the production meets the thresholds for expenditure relevant to the type of production.

The Producer Offset is available to companies producing film, television and other formats with significant Australian content (determined by Screen Australia), and co-productions certified by Screen Australia.

In defining whether a film has met the SAC test, Screen Australia has regard to the following:

- // The subject matter of the film
- // The place where the film was made
- // The nationalities and places of residence of key creative personnel and other persons who took part in making the film
- // The details of the production expenditure incurred in respect of the film
- // Any other matters that Screen Australia considers to be relevant

The Producer Offset cannot be combined with either the Location or PDV Offset. Any company intending to apply for the Producer Offset should contact Screen Australia as early as possible to determine whether the project will be eligible.

AVAILABLE TO FEATURE FILMS AT 40% OF QUALIFYING EXPENDITURE.

In addition to having Significant Australian Content (SAC), projects must meet minimum levels of Qualifying Australian Production Expenditure (QAPE) in order to be eligible, as set out below:

FORMAT	MINIMUM LEVELS OF QAPE	OFFSET (ON QAPE)
Feature films	A$1 million total QAPE	40%
Single episode program other than a documentary	A$1 million total QAPE, and QAPE of A$800,000 per hour	20%
Single episode program, documentary	QAPE of A$250,000 per hour, no minimum total QAPE	20%
Series (or season), documentary and animated film	QAPE of A$250,00 per hour, no minimum total QAPE	20%
Television Series – One commercial half-hour minimum per episode for live action series, and One commercial quarter-hour minimum per episode for animated series; minimum of two and maximum of 65 episodes total.	A$1 million total QAPE and QAPE of A$500,000 per hour	20%
Short-form Animation (One commercial quarter-hour minimum)	A$250,000, total QAPE and QAPE of A$1 million per hour	20%

APPLYING FOR A PROVISIONAL CERTIFICATE (OPTIONAL)

A company may apply for a provisional certificate before or during production. This may be a requirement for co-investment by Federal and State screen agencies, although it is not a prerequisite for a Final Certificate. It does not provide a guarantee of final certification; however, it can provide an indication of the extent to which the production qualifies under the Significant Australian Content (SAC) test, and assist in identifying those costs which can be counted towards QAPE.

APPLYING FOR FINAL CERTIFICATION

Following the completion of the production, the company applies to Screen Australia for final certification. Screen Australia will also determine final QAPE, which serves as the base for the calculations for the payment of the offset by the Australian Taxation Office.

Applications can be made when the production is completed, all expenditure has ceased and the project has evidence of distribution.

CLAIMING THE OFFSET

The Final Certificate issued by Screen Australia must be submitted as part of the applicant company's tax return for the given income year in which the production was completed. The final offset will be paid against the company's Australian tax liabilities for the income year in which the production was completed, with the remainder refunded to the company.

AUSTRALIA'S STATE SCREEN AGENCY INCENTIVES.

NEW SOUTH WALES: SYDNEY

Where else can you find a spectacular range of stunning and unique locations, Australia's best studio complex, world-class crews and talent and leading post, digital and visual effects houses, all just a few minutes from the world's most famous beach? As the hub of the Australian screen industry, Sydney has it all, and has attracted some of the biggest films to shoot in Australia. Sydney and surrounding areas have doubled for downtown Metropolis and rural Smallville in Superman Returns, Normandy's D-Day beaches in X-Men Origins: Wolverine, Korea's DMZ and an Alaskan airbase in Stealth, and even Seville in Mission: Impossible II. New South Wales (NSW) continues to attract both international and interstate footloose productions to film in the State, and the attractive financial incentives reflect this.

FILM AND TELEVISION INDUSTRY ATTRACTION FUND (FIAT)

A broad and flexible grant designed to attract international and interstate production and post-production to NSW. Offered as a cash rebate calculated on the total production spend in NSW, the incentive is assessed on a case-by-case basis using a range of criteria, including labour costs, the number of local cast and crew employed, regional locations used, new technology employed, whether post-production is included and the direct economic benefit to the state. The NSW Government is keen to maintain the State's enviable reputation as Australia's leader in post-production, digital and visual effects (PDV), and so "PDV only" projects are also highly sought after.

Eligible projects must have a minimum production spend of A$5million in NSW, or minimum post-production costs of A$500,000 in NSW.
